Working Student Development (F / M / D)

Are you interested in the field of web development and at the same time want to contribute to more sustainable action within society? Then get in touch with us! Our platform brings together people who want to live and consume sustainably with local suppliers of sustainable products. Take your next step with us and make a difference - as a working student in development (f/m/d).

Your Opportunities

Added value: As a development working student (m/f/d), you will work with us to further develop transparency in the area of sustainability. You will work on an exciting project and help to solve various complex problems.

Good Conditions: Our flat hierarchies give you the opportunity to take on responsibility quickly and grow continuously. We offer a wide range of learning and creative opportunities with flexible working hours to suit your life. We mainly work remotely, but also available at the locations in Munich and Frankfurt am Main.

Innovation: With our technological solutions, you are at the cutting edge and have the opportunity to get to know new technologies, record your first development successes and find solutions for complex tasks. With us, you can combine the trends of digitalization and sustainability.

Teamwork: Together with our team, we identify development needs and brainstorm new ideas. You can contribute and prove yourself in our young, dynamic and informal environment. Thanks to our continued growth and your good performance, we can stay connected in the long term and grow together to meet our challenges.

Your Skillset

Education: You have successfully completed university degree in the field of computer science / information systems / engineering / mathematics or a comparable course of study, including very good written and spoken German and English skills.

Experience: You have already successfully completed your first projects in AngularJS, NodeJS or ReactJS or have a strong passion for web development and the IT environment.

Commitment: You have a fast perceptiveness, a high willingness to learn and strive for continuous development.

Are you ready? Apply today and become a sustainability hero!

Our team looks forward to receiving your application documents (CV and school, university and work references) at our e-mail address: bewerbung@nachhaltigkeitshelden.de. A cover letter is not necessary.

Equal opportunities for all: We welcome applications from all people, regardless of age, disability, ethnic origin and nationality, gender, religion, sexual orientation or social background. You can apply as long as the job advertisement is displayed - unless otherwise stated in the job text, there is no closing date for applications. The starting date is flexible and can be changed every month.
